

Kingston Community Energy Council: Shaping Our Local Energy Transition

Nominations are now open for new community members to join Mid-Hudson Energy Transition's (MHET) Community Council in Kingston, NY.

Purpose

The Community Council meets monthly as a group, along with MHET staff members, to provide feedback and insights on MHET's programming. The Community Council is tasked with ensuring that our community serving programs for housing, the environment, health, and wealth are done in ways that are needed, planned, and genuinely wanted by our communities. The current Community Council has met since December 2023.

Nominee Requirements

- Nominees should live and/or work in Kingston and be active, respected members of their community.
- Nominees should be willing to commit time and energy to improving the lives of neighbors and other residents and businesses.
- Nominees are not expected to be experts on energy matters but should be interested in learning.

Time Commitment

Meetings are typically held monthly for an hour and a half. The frequency of future meetings will be decided by the Community Council.

Stipend

Each Community Council member receives a $100 stipend per meeting that they attend and free dinner and childcare during the meeting.

How to Join

To nominate yourself or someone else to join the Community Council, fill out this form or email community@mid-hudson.energy to show interest or ask questions.
